ALPS ADRIATIC

---

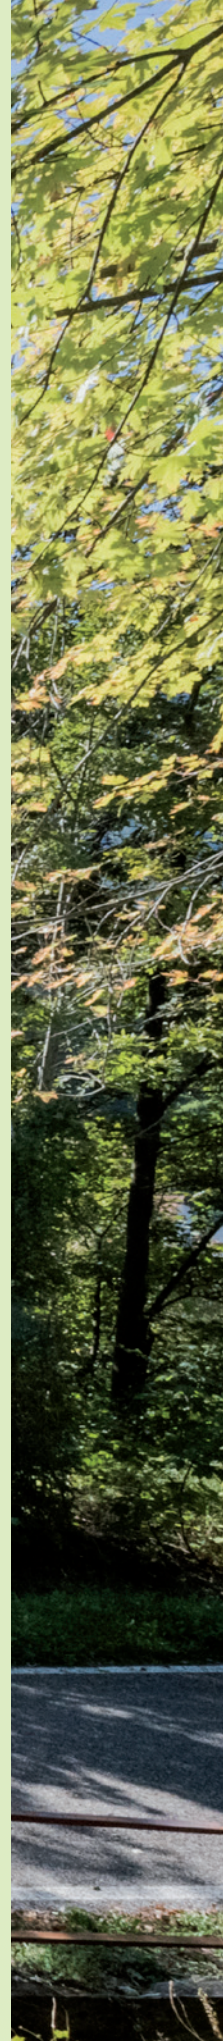

There are dreams that cyclists keep for years. Pedaling across the Alps is one of them. But the steep mountain passes can discourage many people.

The Alpe Adria Cycle Path links the splendors of Salzburg with the lagoons of the Adriatic. What is the special thing about it?

In the first part of the journey, you head up to the Hohe Tauern mountains. There the Alpine ridge is crossed by train. Then off you go into the sunshine, down to Carinthia and in Italy you can enjoy the well-kept paths of a former railroad to the full. On the way you will find small towns worth seeing and a lot of nature – all connected by one of the most beautiful transalpine tours.

CARINTHIA

---

In Carinthia, cyclists can look forward to three highlights. First, there is the Drava River. It runs from west to east through the entire state. Leaving its banks, you quickly reach one of the lakes. They are picturesquely embedded in the third nature highlight – the mountains. Our multi-day trips follow the well-developed Drava cycle path as a feeder to the lakes. For those who like it more sporty or appreciate the advantages of an e-bike, the Carinthian Lakes Loop is the right choice. Here you can enjoy great panoramic views. # ISTRIA

---

The peninsula of Istria is a place to dream! There are 540 kilometers of coastline, up to 1,400m high mountains, plains, river valleys and romantic towns everywhere. The soil is full of history and produces specialties such as truffles, olive oils and fine wines. The chefs garnish everything with fish dishes, seafood, ham, pasta and risotto. The cycling stages are the appetizers for the evening feast. Our tours link Italian Trieste with Slovenian Piran and the Croatian coastal towns of Poreč, Rovinj and Pula. They follow the disused railroad bed Parenzana and they enchant day after day, hour by hour.

APULIA

---

Always spoiled by good food and warmth - Apulia has a lot to offer for cyclists. Especially appreciated are the quiet side roads in spring and autumn. Cycling in the slightly hilly terrain through olive groves and vineyards, you will quickly forget the daily routine. Every bend in the road serves with new impressions. Stone walls lead to the cute trulli stone houses or to small towns. They enchant with their white buildings just as the three World Heritage sites in the region. And then there is the Adriatic Sea! Cyclists move from bay to bay and rejoice in the sea shining in the sun. This is what a successful vacation looks like!
